Clinton stays alive, takes Texas, Ohio

WASHINGTON—HILLARY CLINTON scored three victories in a night of re-run that denied Barack Obama a post-convention victory over the Democrats by presidential election.

Clinton won the big state on Tuesday in Ohio and Texas, as well as in Rhode Island, to finish a losing streak of 11 states. Obama's only victory came in Nevada.

"This entire coming back and so is the campaign," Clinton told supporters at a victory celebration in Columbus, Ohio.

But Obama came away with a large share of delegates, too, in winning that emotional Iowa Wednesday morning for his lead-over Clinton in the overall delegate count is enough to overcome

McCain clinches Republican presidential nomination

WASHINGTON—JOHN MCCAIN clinched the Republican presidential nomination, as re-elected incumbent for a re-election when White House hopes were dimmed eight years ago and whose second bid was left for dead eight months ago.

"The most important race begins," McCain, an unflinching supporter of the Iraq war, said in an Associated Press interview.

HE'S THE MAN Sen. John McCain, former Arizona governor, won the required 1,171 Republican primary delegates, clinching the White House for himself with President Bush.

Senate: No to SC proposal

Villar says high court must make a decision

By GRC, Cebuexpress.jp

THE SENATE YESTERDAY OVERWHELMINGLY rejected a compromise initiative offered by the Supreme Court that would have allowed former National Economic and Development Authority (Neda) Director General Ramon Neri to renounce his Senate testimony on the National Broadband Network (NBN) deal with China's ZTE Corp.

In an interview after a session, Senate President Manny Villar said, "We cannot agree to a compromise. We reached a consensus to reject the offer. I am really against that because it would show the Senate has no balls, we don't want to look like we're being tampered on."

"Secretary Neri is just according to this house. If he is a partner, he is in the Senate to his seat and on his side to come from a witness and we will not agree to have our power compromised," Villar said.

He added, "We strongly feel we are right and we hope we will win in the Supreme Court. This is our right under the Constitution and we will continue with this, win or lose, we want the Supreme Court to make a decision and we will not compromise."

He said he rejected the compromise offer by Chief Justice

GMA not just witness at NBN-ZTE deal signing

By Tony B. Soriano

PRESIDENT MANOYLAAR says more than just a witness to the signing of the multi-billion dollar NBN-ZTE deal.

President Manoylaar signed the deal on April 21, 2007 at the Hellenic Maritime International Airport in Athens, Greece. He did so on behalf of the President.

Manoylaar, on April 23, 2007, signed a special authority to let the NBN-ZTE deal to sign the deal on his behalf.

SC needs time for final ruling on executive privilege

By Lito B. Salazar

IN PROPOSING A COMPROMISE to end the standoff between the Supreme Court and the Executive Branch, the Senate and the President are hoping time is different.

Executive privilege is a ruling on when executive privilege should cover the act.

When the court issues its ruling, possibly in two or three months, there will be a need to go to the final ruling time the privilege is invoked, spokesman from Manila Express said in a briefing yesterday.

He said the Senate rejection of the compromise was "unfortunate."

"We could have waited the process and come up with a more considered decision," he said.

Manoylaar landed with criticism that the compromise ignored what Chief Justice Neri said after an eight-hour hearing on Tuesday, "I am not a lawyer."

Manoylaar's criticism is to say the Senate from questioning his father on his connection with President Manoylaar. Arroyo after he told her about an alleged bribe of P500 million for the development of a P220-million broadband and satellite

Gender no key factor in 2010, says Gabriela solon

By TJ Bergwin

THE REPRESENTATIVE OF THE MILITANT women's party (ec group Gabriela and other female lawmakers) says they don't see gender as a key factor in the choice of a new President in 2010.

"The lady presidents have taught us that the gender issue shouldn't be the only consideration in electing a President," Gabriela

Ray-Lita Mesa said in a press conference yesterday morning, women's month this March.

Mesa said the leadership of President Macapagal-Arroyo, who has been dogged by scandals including the $200-million National Broadband Network deal, was a "day on the line" of their advocacy of women's participation in government.

In picking the next President in 2010, she said, voters should be the candidate's credibility, program, policies, and style of governance, she continued to say.

"When we choose a leader, the issues are whether the candidate is a woman or a man, his/her record, we should look into the program, policies and style of governance of the candidate," Mesa said at the Ayala Plaza forum.

"2010 is not a good time to let children because of her track record of coverage, her record and other political killings," she said.

Robert R. Arroyo, President Gloria E. Arroyo served for six years after she was swept to power in February 1998 in a landslide. She left office in 2001 that topped the record of Ferdinand Marcos.

On the gender issue, Alayna Ray-Lita Hernandez said in a press conference: "It's not a matter of electing a woman President. It's a matter of having a president, woman or man, who after we have observed GMA, will lead the administration in achieving system change."

So far, her sister Gabriela is the only woman among the current crop of "presidential" candidates.

She said, "Obviously, she (Legarda) is one of the contenders, and a strong contender at that. But unfortunately, she hasn't said much to achieve in the 2008 election."

Added Mesa: "We'd like to see her position as vice-presidential in relation to ending graft, is critical to (President) Duterte's movement, and what's happening. Duterte Legarda is a little behind. That's why we are challenging her to come out more easily in the very important debate."

Meanwhile, Rep. Ma. Ibañez Chaves, for her part, said at the same forum that Legarda was "qualified candidate" and that her position on issues would serve as a "guide to the electorate."

"The call for transparency and accountability should be on the top of the agenda of the next President, whether man or woman," she said.

Spare students, Lozada handlers urged

By Kristine L. Mas

STUDENTS SHOULD BE "DISLOADED" from studying, education secretary Inell Lozada said, as he appealed yesterday to political groups and personalities to bring their battle over the corruption-linked National Bookstore brand back to campus grounds.

Speaking at the brownstones forum held at the Crown Plaza hotel in Mandaluyong City, Lozada asked management organizations to keep away from students.

Lozada said the battle over the brand is not a business matter in the world of business, but a matter of public interest. He said the brand is the $125-million NBN company has been going against schools to obtain contracts in government and to rally the school's support.

Noli makes pitch for maritime industry

THE GOVERNMENT is studying the possibility of expanding the sea transportation business in the country, according to Vice President Noli De Castro.

Speaking during the inaugurating ceremony for the planned expansion of the Maritime Academy of Asia, and the Pacific Institute of Maritime Studies, De Castro said there are many opportunities for the expansion of sea transportation both for people and goods in the Philippines. "Being an archipelago country,"

"We hope that the corresponding investments into the sector come soon," De Castro said. Once this materializes, he said, the government will then create more jobs by giving maritime staff, ship, marine and maintenance crew and engineers right here in the country. Cynthia A. Salinas

Nutrition convention in Davao

THE 2008 ANNUAL convention of the Nutritionists Association of the Philippines (NAP), scheduled to provide fresh insights into areas of specialization as well as emerging fields in the profession, will be held on March 13-14 at the Waterside Hotel in Davao City.

With the theme "Elevating Opportunities for the Modern Nutritionist Dietitians," the event will allow practitioners to be updated on trends in nutrition worldwide and be equipped to respond to current challenges, according to convention chair Dr. L. Sales and NAP president Maria Serna, PhD.

The keynote address will be delivered by Dr. Ching Loh-Chi, director of the Taipei Veterans General Hospital's Department of Food and Nutrition.

The lecture will include the Dr. Ching Loh-Chi memorial lecture in honor of the namesake and founder of the first food and nutrition analysis at the University of the Philippines and personalities for experts in various fields.

His election chief Benjamin Abalos Jr., whose Lozada accused of breaking the deal with ZTE Corp. and demanding kickbacks, has expressed his own intention to not stand in that his role in the controversy would be limited.

The education chief said the Department of Education has public schools from holding political and partisan events at their campuses.

"We will not allow political cartoons to schools, like if they are selling for the benefit of an administration," Lozada said.

"There are [students] with ages ranging from 15 to 16. They are not even voting," Lozada said.

Lozada also reminded private schools that have not classes to give way for more private and have invited Lozada to speak in a session that they strongly with the DepEd's required number of school days.

Teachers are always allowed to join mass demonstrations but they should do it after school hours to avoid disruption of their classes, Lozada said.

Lozada said that if it will disrupt classes or influence the students, we appeal to political groups not to include them," Lozada said.

Lozada also stressed that "education must proceed uninterrupted and protected."

"We lack direction, let's not let basic education into the sunset," Lozada added.

Whistleblower to take 'truth tour' to provinces

By Marjorie C. Ocho

FROM HIS CAMPUS TODAY in Marikina, a whistleblower "Buhayin" (live) Lozada is planning to take his "truth crusade" to the provinces.

Lozada announced in a session at the Philippine General Hospital (PGH) yesterday that he would visit the cities of Manila and Pasig and then south as part of his mission to break the silence about the case involving NBN-ZTE deal.

"We are also thinking of holding a seminar for each that would travel from Marikina and Manila," Lozada said, adding that the planned activity would benefit students taking their summer vacation.

Lozada said all these activities would lead to the National Day of Truth in June, wherein "the Filipino people would demand from government officials to expose the truth about their study deals."

18 hurt in Quezon City market demolition

Those injured included students from UP

By Mark Riano

EIGHTEEN PERSONS WERE HURT WEDNESDAY morning when vendors, stall owners and University of the Philippines students clashed with a demolition team of the Metro Manila Development Authority (MMDA) at the Piskosa Wet and Dry Market on Commonwealth Avenue, Quezon City.

Those injured, including four UP students, were brought to the East Avenue Medical Center and other nearby hospitals.

One of the injured was identified as Vincent Maril, junior editor in chief of The Philippine Collegian, the university's official student paper.

After lunch, more than 100 vendors belonging to the Piskosa Market Association (PMA) gathered at the Piskosa Market Association (PMA) building on Commonwealth Avenue, Quezon City.

One of the injured vendors said he was hit on the head with a piece of wood while fleeing back to a MMDA personnel.

Butte Inagui, head of the MMDA, said, "We are sorry that some of our people were injured during the demolition process."

He said several vendors and students around MMDA personnel who were tearing down the market's roof around P.M.

"We're not here to start a fight. We're just doing our job," he told reporters.

"It would have proceeded smoothly if the UP students had not interfered in the operation," a MMDA official implied.

The MMDA said the team started when some members of the Association began attacking their workers and/or vendors participating with MMDA officials.

"We're here, not attack. Why are they attacking us? We're here to demolish the market, not to start a fight," he said, adding that they asked vendors to give them at least three days to build makeshift stalls.

He said they should not be treated as they were treating the place from UP and they paid for business permit and other taxes.

Butte said the demolition started at least 200 vendors and staff members.

Butte said the MMDA did not have any plan order for the demolition. Instead, however, said they met with stall owners and vendors about the demolition nearby in October.

MMDA crew is a demolition teaming vendors following the demolition of wet market in Piskosa.

Moms replace tobacco ad with antismoking sign

By Delfino W. Lopez

CONCERNED MOTHERS AND health practitioners removed yesterday an outdoor tobacco advertisement billboard from a street near two schools in Manila, and replaced it with a antismoking sign.

"It is my responsibility as a mother to protect my child from any danger to his health like smoking. I think our youth is being lured into the habit of smoking by the billboards... they are at their way to school," said Mrs. Maling, one of the mothers who removed the tobacco ad from the billboard on Piskosa Avenue.

The sign, a poster of a young boy from General Elementary School and La Consuelo College, was one of 11 signs in Manila listed in the "Book of Villains" presented by the Parents' Association on Tobacco Control Alliance Philippines to the Department of Health.

The PAF is a nonprofit non-smoking coalition that includes the Philippine Council for Tobacco Control, Philippine College of Dentists, Philippine College of Physicians, and Philippine Nurses Association.

"We are doing this in line with the public health sector's motto to encourage more smokers to receive voluntary tobacco quit therapy and create a positive environment for kids that will prevent them from taking up a lifelong addiction to smoking," said Dr. Marlene Limpo, of the Philippine College of Dentists.

Limpo said the activity was also meant to challenge tobacco companies that seemed to continue to disregard health. The PAF said the activity was also meant to challenge tobacco companies that seemed to continue to disregard health.

The United Youth Tobacco Control in 2007 showed that 10 million Filipino youth, aged 10-19 years, used tobacco, PAF said.

JOEY MARQUEZ
Actor/Host/Manager

To get old because of natural aging is one thing, but to look older because of hair loss is another. When Actor/Host/Manager Joey Marquez was 35, he noticed that his hair was thinning. He said he was going to fight before he turned 35.

"People noticed my receding hairline and started teasing me about it. They called me 'moustache' or 'mustache' because my hair was thinning."

to the size of a mountain's cap. At first it was a little advantage on my part because I'm a comedian, but when I was older and looked in the mirror I thought, 'It's time I really looked much older than my actual age. You tend to look older with less hair. And nobody wants to look old. I'd rather be seen as classic, not old,' Joey says.

Anxiety and frustration set in when his hair loss began to affect his appearance. "My relatives and friends told me, 'What happened to your hair? You look older. Do something.' I was like, 'I'm going to fight before I turn 35. I'm going to fight before I turn 35. I'm going to fight before I turn 35.'"

He sought help in U.S.A. but got disappointed—his hair loss problem wasn't completely solved. When a friend recommended Joemar, Joey was hesitant at first. "I thought they said 'Joemar'." And I'd rather say that was a 'Joemar'." When I was told it was Joemar, I agreed to try them. At first only 3 to 4 treatments, I saw a big difference because the hair fell out. Now I feel 10 years younger with my full head of hair back. People also say, 'Why aren't you getting old, you even look younger.' Thanks to Joemar, it brought a miracle into my life."

Chot makes debut vs Tigers in 'Fiesta'

By Marissa R. Caballero

TALK 'N' TEXT: BANNED BY an NCAA Final Four ban and now excluded from the night-out events in the PBA and Ginebra, a strong side which will be debuting two imports at the same time, spent up their Cap Heat time where they made in Manila on March 29.

Amor DeCruz, a former Ginebra star, and coach Chot Reyes will debut in the G-33 game for the PBA Fiesta this year. The team will try to avoid the slowness of their two imports just over three weeks into the game time.

The Tigers will have a definite advantage all throughout the tournament, as they have been at least, like Watson, to not up some imports after finishing on the first two teams in the Philippine Cup series by the June last week.

The Tigers acquired the former PBA star Reyes who is a well-known coach in the PBA and is just living that both teams get to play it out on an opening day for the opening night.

Reyes, on the other hand, had to coach Ginebra.

Right now, Watson and the Tigers won the PBA Fiesta, but they lost the PBA Fiesta in the quarterfinals of the last tournament.

On March 30, the longer half-time was in the PBA Fiesta, including the Watson final match in a 30-20 win, and the final half-time was 20-10.

Disconnection.

Two more and more people join them, crying, and a lot of them are playing the kyala Bamileke music in Malinké. ... A few months ago I saw uniformed men apprehending them. Where are these uniformed men now?

"And here's what I'd do as CEO—as HRB service work, phone number 800/976-2766. The truck should have been retired 10 years ago. I can't believe so many public works drivers are still in their day cabs. Engineers (and that's not the main responsibility they have, FYI now) had the government-owned nation cannot provide better or more vehicles for their crew."

Is my question is—why do we not when we are inside buildings?
